Tax Season 2026 - All you need to know

You may start filing your Income Tax between 1 Mar and 18 Apr 2026. This page outlines the steps and information required when filing.

Need help with e-filing? Visit go.gov.sg/efilingguide to view our step-by-step e-Filing guides.

Understanding what happens during tax season

Filing notifications (SMS/Email/Letter) are sent between Feb and Mar.

If you received a notification to file, you may file from 1 Mar to 18 Apr.

Tax bills are issued progressively. To find out when you will receive yours, refer to Tax Season 2026 – About Your Tax bill.

If you have updated your notification preferences to receive digital notices, you will be notified via SMS and/or email when your Notice of Assessment is ready for viewing at myTax Portal.

To update your notice preferences, you may use the 'Update Contact & Notice Preferences' digital service at myTax Portal.

Find out your tax filing obligation from 1 Mar

To find out if you are required to file an Income Tax Return, log into myTax Portal:

MYTAX PORTAL

- You are not required to file your tax return. – We will notify you once your tax bill is ready or if any action is required from you.
- You are not required to file your tax return. Verify by 18 Apr 2026 – You are under the No-Filing Service. View your tax return and check that the pre-filled income and relief information are correct by 18 Apr 2026.
- You are required to file your tax return. – Due by 18 Apr 2026
- No messages or actions required displayed

What happens after you file

You will see an acknowledgment page on the screen after you click “Submit” if you have successfully filed.

If there are any changes, you may re-file your Income Tax Return once by 18 Apr.

You will generally receive your Notice of Assessment (i.e. tax bill) from end Apr to end Sep 2026*.

Check your tax bill to ensure that it is accurate. You have a legal duty to inform IRAS of any inaccurate information on your income and/or relief claims in your tax bill. There are penalties for failing to do so.

Refer to Tax Season 2026 - About your tax bill for more information.

If you are under the Direct Notice of Assessment \(D-NOA\) scheme, you would have received your tax bill in Mar 2026.*
